

Observations

- Visitations to the work site of the participant to collect behavior change information
- Must be systematic, reliable and valid data
- Can be in the form of tally sheets, field notes, or anecdotal data
- Best done by trained observers; could be peers, trainer, or supervisor of participant
- May be very costly and difficult to manage