

Chapter 7: "On the St. Augustine Road" from A Florida Sketch-Book

In this chapter, the author says that, "A brave people can hardly be expected or desired to forget its history, especially when that history has to do with sacrifices and heroic deeds." What do you think he means by this statement? Do you agree with him? Why or why not?