

Elephants at Work and Play

As 5 little elephants marched through the grass
They decided to stop and have a music class,
The first blew his trumpet and announced he'd be teacher.
The next gave a call of the wild jungle animal
The third and fourth elephants trumpeted a song,
But the last little elephant just followed along,
Then he left the others as he didn't care to play,
And he carried tree logs the rest of the day.
