A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court

Directions: After reading Chapter X: Beginnings of Civilization, draw a sequence of events chart to illustrate what happens in the chapter. Now, answer the question at the bottom of the page.

Question: In this chapter the Yankee makes many improvements in the kingdom including starting a school system and revamping the mining system. If you could improve upon something in this country what would it be and why? How would you begin such a task? What would you expect public opinion would be once you proposed such a change?
